It has been almost a year since Microsoft's generative AI tool, Copilot, was launched to the general public. 2024 was the year of AI. Following the widespread adoption of this transformative technology, there has been a raft of new tools, new uses and new jobs as a result. Generative AI is rapidly becoming part of every day life, but are our organisations making the most of the opportunities?

Moving from potential to performance means embracing generative AI and bringing our people along on the journey of perpetual improvement which this enabling technology can provide.

Join us on Tuesday 11th February to discuss what has happened over the past year, with insights from our clients who have had a successful year of Copilot in action.

In session 1, we will learn about the developments in the past year and the importanct of enabling our colleagues through training and scenario workshops. This will be followed by a panel discussion to understand how our clients, Jersey Business, Ports of Jersey and PwC have embraced Copilot for their productivity gains.

In session 2, hear from our experts on the Wave 2 developments released in Q4 2024, the role of autonomous agents and why they are critical to Copilot's future impact.
