Get ready for TEKEX 32, the quarterly get together showcasing local and global innovators - this time live in Guernsey and Jersey!

Welcome to TEKEX 32 - 3 speakers in Guernsey and 3 in Jersey being streamed to each island. C5 Jersey (Windward House) and C5 Guernsey (No.1, The Plaza, Elizabeth Ave, Guernsey GY1 2HU, Guernsey)

We have a melting pot of awesome talent, founders and innovators changing their game as always, both in Guernsey and Jersey. We will also be including government updates on business support schemes - namely Guernsey's GEIS scheme

(Sasha Kazantseva) and Better Business Support Scheme (Paul Murphy).

Headliners:

AJ Coetzee - Summit Deals

We delve into a slick new investor platform which will be housing some of TEKEX' opportunities and investors.

Jonathan Roos - Turning the Skin cancer tide in Jersey - and other AI health gains

Summary: The Channel islands have the highest skin cancer rate in the British Isles which has proven difficult to tackle despite efforts over decades. With modern imaging technology and machine learning offer a new opportunity for tackling this refractive yet eminently preventable and entirely curable disease.

Dr Rachna Murphy - Technology by Trillions: How the microbiome can be harnessed for health.

Summary: Dysregulation of the microbiome has been linked to changes in autoimmune disease, longevity, dry eyes and cancer. Interventions to stabilise gut and sinus health is showing remarkable efficacy in mitigating disease states.Shilpa

Jacob Appel, CEO at Binderr

Jacob is a tech entrepreneur and the co-founder of Binderr, a global marketplace connecting businesses with banks, lawyers, and professional service providers. Previously, he built Time-to-Eat into a €1M ARR food delivery platform and expanded Bolt across Malta, Tunisia, and Cyprus before exiting in an eight-figure deal. At Binderr, he's now focused on transforming how businesses access financial and legal services through AI-driven onboarding, due diligence, and compliance tools.

Katherine Atteih - KTea

Founder of this ground breaking locally produced Kombucha product, we hear about their journey and fundraise opportunity.

Albert Climent - Cthru

Cthru helps financial institutions and regulated intermediaries adopt virtual assets while ensuring full compliance with regulatory requirements
