This 3-day programme, offering 24 hours of accredited CPD, is aimed at Senior and Executive level employees and teams seeking to build leadership skills and understand their personal approach to management and leadership.

Essentially, the programme objectives are to:

- Develop more effective relationships
- Have and manage more productive meetings
- Develop skills in personal communication
- Recognise and change disempowering language
- Self-motivate more effectively

- Work with clients, customers and peers more effectively
- Understand the principles of effective leadership
- Increase self-awareness

The full cost of the programme is £1500 for the 3 days. However, discounts are available for multiple bookings (possibly across future programmes).

To secure a place or discuss a booking, just email dave@odyssea.je

Some testimonials from past participants, if you think they might help:

"It's a refreshing approach to leadership programmes that allows for proper conversation, practical application as well as there and then reflection."

"This programme is genuinely one of the most impactful leadership courses I've attended. It's not just theory, it's practical, thought-provoking and challenges you to take full ownership of how you lead. Dave's delivery makes all the difference, his authenticity, passion and ability to make sense of everything in such a relatable way really set this course apart."

"It has reinforced behaviors I want to demonstrate daily which will allow me continue to grow as a leader"
