Join Us for the Productivity Research Conference 2025

We're excited to offer a unique and inspiring opportunity for a small group of likeminded individuals from Jersey to attend the Productivity Research Conference 2025. This subsidised trip is designed to spark fresh thinking, foster connections, and bring back valuable insights to our local context.

Why Attend?

This national conference brings together leading experts from across the UK to explore the latest research and practical insights on productivity, innovation, and economic growth.

You'll gain:

- Fresh perspectives on productivity challenges and solutions
- Access to cutting-edge research and real-world case studies
- Opportunities to network with experts and peers from across the UK
- Inspiration and ideas to bring back to your business or organisation

What's Included?
To make this experience as smooth and accessible as possible, we're covering most of the costs. The trip includes:

- Hotel accommodation for the nights of Wednesday 3rd and Thursday 4th September
- Welcome dinner on arrival evening (3rd September) with fellow Jersey attendees
- Full access to the Productivity Research Conference on 4th September
- Optional conference dinner on the evening of the event (held at the university)
- Airport transfers (if you book the recommended flights)

Please note: Flights to and from Manchester are not included. We're happy to provide flight options to help you plan your travel.

Cost to Attend
We're offering this experience at a subsidised rate of £250 per person, with the remaining costs covered to ensure accessibility and value.

Looking Ahead
In November, we'll host a follow-up with The Productivity Pulse seminar to reflect on the key themes from the conference. We'd love for you to join us as a guest contributor to share your insights and learning with a wider audience.
