“Digital is where faster progress will deliver greatest benefits.”

This was just one of the many pertinent quotes in the recent Financial Services Competitiveness Programme report, as part of the imperatives for competitiveness and growth.

“Digital, where the pace of innovation and adoption will determine whether Jersey leads or observes” was another.

These comments, as well as the phenomenal feedback we received from our last event ‘AI Rewiring Business’ has inspired us to take the unprecedented step of re-running our event on Friday 1st May, enabling those who missed out the chance to see what innovation is available today, to deliver the greatest benefits for the Island's continued economic prosperity.

This event is a practical, people-first session, focused on moving beyond 'AI hype' and into real, scalable impact.

We'll show how Copilot has evolved into an everyday assistant through in-built Microsoft 365 Agents, then go deeper into what it really takes to adopt agentic AI safely and strategically. In short, it's designed for leaders who want clarity on where to start, where to focus, and how to turn intent into value.

- Session One: Experience how Copilot has evolved from a simple prompt-response tool into an indispensable assistant. We will showcase some of the inbuilt Agents in the Microsoft 365 environment and how they can be called upon as subject matter experts to assist with the flow of daily work.
- Session Two: Dive into the foundations of safe, scalable agentic adoption. Learn how our AI Design Sprint service can give you a clear and structured approach to identify the most impactful opportunities for AI and help you to create and implement agents that deliver advanced capabilities for your business
