Health is Jersey's next key industry

Book here

A one-day event exploring the ideas, technologies and people shaping the future of health. From AI and longevity to medtech, the bioeconomy and investment.

Health innovation is moving far beyond traditional healthcare.

New opportunities are emerging across artificial intelligence, medical technology, preventative health, biotechnology, digital platforms, water systems and new models of funding.

This event brings those worlds together for a full day of talks, debate, pitching and conversation.

Overview

This house believes that Health is the next Key industry for Jersey. A day of innovators, founders and discussions.
