Hosted by IoD Jersey Chair Alex Ruddy, this exclusive panel discussion will provide members with the opportunity to hear directly from key government representatives about their priorities for the coming term and their vision for Jersey's future.

The panel will feature:

- Deputy Gerald Voisin, Minister for Sustainable Economic Development
- Senator Elaine Millar, Minister for Social Security
- Senator Tom Binet, Minister for Health & Social Services
- Senator Sir Mark Boleat, Minister for Planning and Regulation

Together, they will explore the Government's priorities and how these align with the recommendations outlined in the joint election manifesto developed by IoD Jersey and the Jersey Chamber of Commerce.

The discussion will focus on the issues that matter most to Jersey's business community, including:

- Supporting long-term economic growth and prosperity
- Improving productivity and competitiveness
- Creating the conditions for business success
- Strengthening collaboration between government and industry
- Addressing the opportunities and challenges facing Jersey

This event provides a valuable opportunity for directors and business leaders to engage directly with government, hear about the direction of travel for the Island, and contribute to the conversation around Jersey's economic future.
